Pastor's Column

Dear Parishioners,

If we've been paying attention to Mary Magdalene this Holy Week - spiritually that is - we have witnessed how someone who loves Jesus is prepared by circumstances and events for the Resurrection. If we've been paying attention to St. John the Apostle this Holy Week, we have witnessed how someone who perceives the weight of relationships and the significance of words and gestures is prepared for the Resurrection. We should examine our own hearts to discover what kind of disciple we are. One of the gifts Jesus most wants to share with his disciples is the knowledge - in faith - of the Resurrection. As Saint Paul says, "If Christ is not risen, our message is worthless, and your faith is pointless." (1 Cor. 15:14) For every disciple, the way they come to know and believe in the Resurrection is unique: this is true for us.

Why do you believe in the Resurrection? There are many wonderful answers to this question - the most important answer is the one that we know Our Lord has intended specifically for us personally. It is similar to how Jesus questions his disciples about His identity in Matthew 16, "Who do people say that I am."

The disciples have some familiarity with what other people are saying about their Master. What Jesus wants them to face and have clear in their minds, however, is the answer to the question, "Who do you say that I am?" - "Why do you believe that I am risen?"

The Church, in her wisdom, calls us to encounter the Risen Lord at every moment. Every Sunday we celebrate the Resurrection, and every year at Easter we recall and relive the events and words of the Sacred Scriptures surrounding the Resurrection. The Church knows that revisiting this crucial moment, with the progressive accumulation of our life experiences and practice of the faith will plant the seed of the Resurrection more firmly and deeply into our souls.

Why do I believe in the resurrection? As a disciple not only of Jesus, but also of St. John the Apostle, I've been irresistibly drawn to imitate the faith of the Apostle. In today's Gospel he tells us how he came to believe in the Resurrection: "He saw, and believed." What did John see? What did John notice that Peter did not notice? What did John believe exactly, since he says afterwards, "For they did not yet understand the Scripture that he had to rise from the dead"? How does the negative of the empty tomb become the positive faith in the Resurrection?

I believe that the experiences of loss and brokenness which we all have to navigate in this life, we must bring to Jesus in our hearts and with our faith. The empty tomb is not just a physical location, it is something to be experienced spiritually at the core of who we are: death is emptied of its power, it is emptied of its finality - and that's the power of the Resurrection. I believe that this is what St. John experienced when he entered the empty tomb. Jesus is not there, death is not there - it is a place of darkness that has been transformed by a mysterious light. The Resurrection is itself a mystery of healing. The more we go to Jesus and experience the power he has to remove death from the tomb of our heart, the more deeply we believe in the Resurrection and experience healing from this world and this life.

It's so powerful: Peter and John go to visit the place of the greatest trauma they have ever been through. They go there expecting to draw close at least to the corpse of the one in whom they had placed all their hope and trust. "He is not here, for he has been raised, just as he said!" (Mt. 28:6) "It is better for you that I go." (Jn. 16:7) They find instead a new presence: an invisible peace and an invincible victory - "The Father will give you another Consoler, who will be with you forever." (Jn. 14:16) May this Easter renew within you the hope of the Resurrection, and the abiding presence of the Holy Spirit.

Blessings,
Fr. Francis Therese Krautter

Knights of Peter Claver,
Deacon Guffie Menogan Council 397
Ladies Auxiliary Anita Grier Court 397

Knights of Peter Claver and Ladies Auxiliary (1909) is the largest, oldest Black Catholic lay-led organization still in existence. Josephite pastor and parishioners of Mobile, Alabama founded the organization named after St. Peter Claver, SJ of Spain who ministered to Africans enslaved in Cartagena, Colombia (1700s). Based on Catholic fraternal orders who at the time did not allow Black members in their councils illustrated the real need for a Black Catholic fraternal order. A Fourth Degree for the Auxiliary, the Ladies of Grace, was established in 1979.

Ignatius Council and Court's historic treasury of Grier, Rose, Fairweather, and Menogan families enriches AMDG. The Knights of Peter Claver, Ladies Auxiliary Anita Grier Court 397 honors Mrs. Anita †(Clarence) Grier's charitable work serving people in need and daily faithfulness to the Rosary (Sundays —9 AM). Her daughters Maria Rose and Jennifer Fairweather are charter members. Knights of Peter Claver, Deacon Guffie Menogan† Council 397 honors the first deacon and first Black deacon assigned to Loyola. Charter members include Clarence Grier †, Gregg Fairweather, and Gregory Fairweather II.

Nationally awarded Loyola's Council and Court 397 services include: Annual Fall event, creation of a nursing room, fundraisers—Lenten fish fries, Christmas bake sales, breakfasts—for church picnics and Christmas boxes, donations and support for sickle cell families, local homeless shelters and the unhoused, support for the Julia Greeley Guild, and education programs for human trafficking awareness.

Take, Lord, receive.
